COMMUNITY NEWS

APPLY NOW FOR CROSSLANDS @HEART FUNDING SUPPORT

Community groups throughout the mid-west are encouraged to apply before the March 15 deadline for funding under Crosslands Resources' @Heart Community Support Program.

This will be the second round of community funding made available by Crosslands. The @Heart program is designed to support projects in communities where Crosslands operate, that will benefit a broad range of community members.

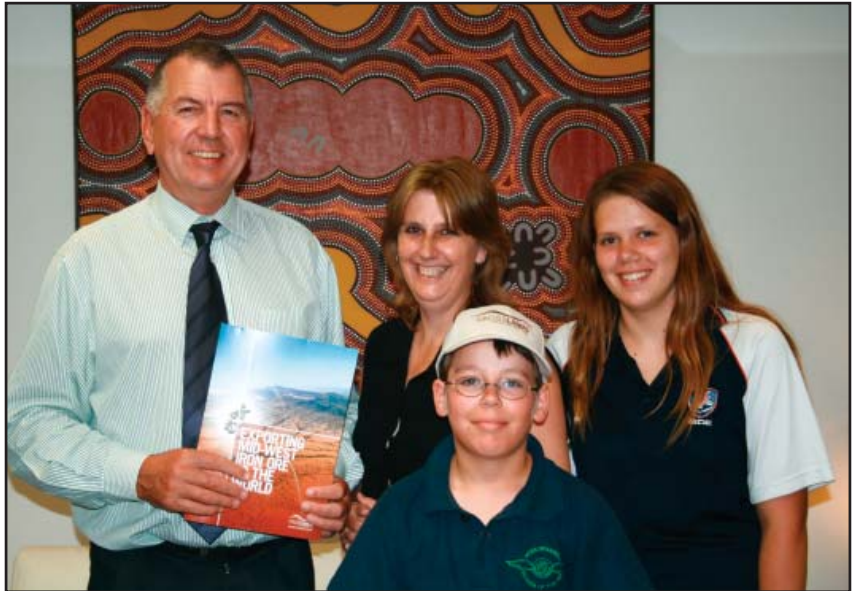

These communities include the Shires of Cue, Murchison, Meekatharra, Yalgoo, Mullewa and Mt Magnet as well as the City of Geraldton-Greenough.

"Crosslands benefits from the support these communities give us to undertake our business. The @Heart program is our way of giving back to these communities," Crosslands Chief Executive Officer Stuart Hall said.

"The first round of funding was announced in November last year and is already assisting five not-for-profit community groups to undertake projects designed to provide ongoing cultural, educational, health and well-being benefits across several communities."

These projects include the Mid-West Family Support Association's "Aidan's Place" program, the Yamaji News Project and Meekatharra School of the Air's Parents travel trust.

Crosslands' @Heart funding was also extended to Geraldton Grammar School's Artist in Residence program and to sponsor the Mid-West Junior Tennis Open hosted by the Geraldton Tennis Club in January.

Crosslands CEO Stuart Hall presents Meekatharra resident Tracie Blair, President of the Isolated Children's Parent's Association and her children Shannon and Tahlia, with an @Heart cheque

Under the program, for 2009, funding of up to $1000 is available to not for profit community groups and organisations that meet certain criteria. Groups must demonstrate sustainability and lasting community benefits to the mid-west region.

Information and application forms for round two of the Crosslands @Heart Community Support Program are available at www.crosslands.com.au.
